

FL-01: What Are You Proving?

Name: Sibgha Mursaleen

Date: 12 July 2026

Proof Statement

I help early-stage SaaS and AI founders launch their first professional landing page, creating a polished and credible online presence that builds trust from a customer's first impression. Through the projects in my portfolio, I demonstrate clean, scalable frontend development practices alongside thoughtful design, showing how I build websites that are both visually engaging and technically well-structured. If you're preparing to launch your startup and need a professional landing page that reflects the quality of your product, send me a message describing your project.

Why This Portfolio Needs to Exist

My CV and LinkedIn can list my skills and projects, but they cannot demonstrate the quality of my frontend work, design decisions, and ability to create polished websites that build trust from the first impression.
